Synopsis

Third edition (2016): Dr. Neil McKinney's fifth book on naturopathic oncology is updated with the rewards of clinical practice, study, research and reader feedback over the last several years. Patients and integrative physicians will find it easier to navigate, more complete, and of real service. DO: use this book to be informed about your best options, and what to expect them to accomplish. THEN: get expert guidance from a licensed, accountable, health professional team experienced in treating cancer. Cancer is a life-threatening disease in most cases. You do not have the objectivity, experience or knowledge to make critical medical decisions alone. This is not just a disclaimer! Cancer is unforgiving of delays and poor choices.

Customer Reviews

An amazing compilation of integrative/naturopathic interventions for cancer care. Dr. McKinney has documented a myriad of natural and complementary protocols for the various cancers plus provided vital information on chemotherapeutic drug depletions and interactions. For any integrative oncologist, M.D., naturopath or practitioner dealing with cancer patients, this book is a must. My only recommendation is that in subsequent editions, Dr. McKinney add a glossary of terms and acronyms.

This is a fantastic book for those who desire to be well informed about the world of oncology married to naturopathy. It gives you all the options for almost every type of cancer and how the two can work together, what to expect and plenty of studies backing the complementary procedures, botanicals and supplements. Dr. McKinney has saved me lots of research by putting together a comprehensive encyclopedia by offering a model of integrative cancer care that can help a patient make informed decisions about their own health.

An excellent reference for clinical practice. The book starts off with a great summary of the disease process of cancer and biochemical targets of treatment, then examines the various naturopathic treatment options, which is then followed by detailed treatment protocols for the various forms of cancer. The focus is on an integrative medicine approach to treating cancer and is based on the latest available scientific research.
