Zeidler, food columnist, television chef, and co-owner of L.A.'s Citrus restaurant, cooks sophisticated food that is kosher. Here she gathers more than 500 of her recipes and arranges them into menus for the Jewish holdidays, "international entertaining," and other special occasions. There is a Two-Day Rosh Hashanah menu and a Nouvelle Hanukkah Dinner; kosher but authentic Chinese, Mexican, and French meals; a New Year's Eve dinner and an Israeli Bar Mitzvah buffet;

and more. The appeal of these recipes should not be limited to kosher cooks. JSCopyright 1988

Judy Zeidler is a teacher and authority on kosher cuisine. In addition to her cooking column for the Los Angeles Times, which is syndicated nationwide, Judy is the host of the Jewish Television Network show Judy's Kitchen and author of The 30-Minute Kosher Cook. She and her husband are co-proprietors of the Broadway Deli, Capo, and Zeidler's Caf .

I can use this cookbook as a primary recipe and menu planning resource for everyday and holidays because it's that good!

I've tried a lot of the recipes and they're very good. Easy to follow.

This book is very well laid out and gives lots of detail on how to prepare Jewish foods. Especially great for those special occasions.

I have this very issue and have now passed one on to my daughter as she prepares for her life cooking for her husband to be!

I found this book okay... nothing special. It does have a fair share of interesting recipes and ideas, but it can be a challenge just to find them. Unlike a traditional cookbook it is organized by holiday, theme party etc. So if you want to look at all the soup options, you have to jump all over the book. I find it daunting to have to work just to find the recipe! I don't know if I would classify the content of The Gourmet Jewish Cook "gourmet". It might be useful for a beginner or someone under the impression that all there is to Jewish cuisine is matzo balls & chicken soup, for an advanced cook/gourmet - I'd say pass.

Most of the recipes in this book are innovative and interesting. Judy Zeidler takes tried and true recipes and gives them a new twist. There are a few must tries, including: The Matza Farfel cookies for Passover and Stuffed Grape Leaves!

For anyone who likes to bake bread, this has a great recipe for challah. It works perfectly, and turns out some of the best bread I have ever had!
