In the course of nearly 50 years, Norman Rockwell (1894-1978) created 327 covers for The Saturday Evening Post. The beloved painter and illustrator possessed a special gift for recapturing the idealistic spirit behind American culture as well as heartwarming and poignant incidents of everyday life. In 1977 Rockwell was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the United States' highest civilian honor, for his "vivid and affectionate portraits of our country."

As a long time Rockwell fan, I found the drawings in the book to be good selections and the printing is not sloppy or messy. The pages are printed on both sides, which may pose a problem if you use watercolor or acrylic paints. Overall, a good adult coloring book with a great selection of Rockwell's most popular works. Recommended.

Great book, pictures are great makes you feel like you are actually Norman Rockwell himself

This was a gift for a Norman Rockwell fan, he loves it!

This is a well illustrated coloring book. My husband said the pictures are complicated and to hard to color.

Norman Rockwell is a classic, and the pictures in this color book are great.

I remember Norman Rockwell from the magazine, glad to be able to color these pictures myself!
